Art Prompt and Palette Generator Use Cases

- User:
  - Generating a Prompt
    - The user clicks on a button on the screen that says "Create Prompt." Random words divided by type (Character/Action/ Location) will then appear on the screen. Underneath each type, a button appears to reroll that specific type. There is also a button underneath the previously mentioned 3 buttons to reroll the whole prompt.
  - Rerolling for a Different Character the Prompt
    - The user clicks on the "Reroll Character" button. The pre-rolled character disappears and is replaced with a new character.
  - Rerolling for a Different Action
    - The user clicks on the "Reroll Action" button. The pre-rolled action disappears and is replaced with a new action.
  - Rerolling for a Different Location
    - The user clicks on the "Reroll Location" button. The pre-rolled location disappears and is replaced with a new location.
  - Rerolling the Whole Prompt
    - The user clicks on the "New Prompt" button and the whole prompt disappears to be replaced with a new one.
  - Generating a Colour Palette
    - The user clicks on the "Create Palette" button and a randomly generated triad of colours appear. Under each of the three colours appears a button that says "Reroll this Colour." There also appears another button called "New Palette" underneath the previously mentioned 3 buttons.
  - Rerolling a Section of the Palette
    - The user clicks on the "Reroll this Colour" button to reroll a specific colour. The old colour will disappear and be replaced with a new one.
  - Rerolling the Whole Palette
    - The user clicks on the "New Palette'' button. Then, the 3 colours disappear and get replaced by a new set of 3 colours.
  - Submitting a Prompt Idea
    - Thus use clicks on the "Submit Idea" button. A window pops up and asks for their idea. The user fills in their idea and clicks the submit button.